

DODOMA

Dodoma Hotel – Tanganyika 1950's

Background

No notes from Dodoma would be complete without reference to one of its most important institutions, the Railway Hotel to which the management, in persons of Mr J H Strafford and his pleasant wife were to be commended. Without contradiction, it was the best in Tanganyika and it would stand in fair light against the top-notch hotels in Kenya and Uganda. With such a splendid hotel and the expanse of sand which Dodoma enjoys, perhaps it would have been a good idea for the Administration to consider advertising it as a beauty spot or even better as a sea side resort – if only there was some sea there. – A regular customer 1952

Same Dodoma Hotel – Recent. The old splendour and elegance is no longer there.
